February 19, 2017 — Seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

Our readings today are a summons to holiness, and a description of what it means to be holy. In Leviticus, we read that holiness begins with God, the Holy One, who called the people of Israel to be like God. Holiness takes the form of love: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." Saint Paul claims that the Christian community in Corinth, with all its flaws and petty rivalries, is in fact holy. It is holy because it is God's temple, the place where God dwells. And in the Gospel of Matthew, Jesus describes what holiness looks like: breaking cycles of violence and negativity through forgiveness and generosity. When we bring forgiveness to the table of our lives, especially when anger and bitterness threaten to overwhelm our relationship with others, we reflect the Holy One who dwells within us.

NOT ASKING THE IMPOSSIBLE The final line in today's Gospel can seem confusing: "be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect." "Perfect" is sometimes imagined as "flawless," as in a flawless diamond. But the Greek word used here, as used elsewhere in the New Testament, means something different: to become mature, whole, or healthy. Jesus is not asking us to be flawless, nor does he want us to say, "Well, that's impossible, why bother then?" He is inviting us to grow into full Christian maturity. For most of us, Jesus' words in today's Gospel are very challenging. We need to resist the temptation to dodge his challenge by calling it impossible.

RESISTING EVIL Jesus' teaching in the first verses of today's Gospel has also been puzzling to many. Some interpret Jesus to say that we should not resist evil, but instead be completely passive. However, the Law of Moses called Israel to vigorously resist evil. Within this section of the Sermon on the Mount, we can see how Jesus interpreted the Law, "not to abolish but to fulfill" (Matthew 5:17). Jesus taught that violent resistance to the oppressor tends to sustain and expand the pattern of hatred and evil. Violence spawns new violence. But those who turn the cheek, hand over the cloak, and go the second mile, resist evil by exposing it within the evildoer's heart. Jesus was not naïve about evil and violence. In fact, he experienced these fully in his death. On the cross, Jesus radically resisted evil and exposed its powerlessness. On the cross, he loved his enemies and prayed for those who persecuted him. As Jesus forgave his enemies, he witnessed to the Good News he preached, that God loves and forgives all of us. When we forgive and love our enemies, we are liberated from hatred in our own hearts. Then evil's power diminishes, and a path opens toward ending its patterns of violence and oppression.

Today's Readings: Lev 19:1-2, 17-18; Ps 103:1-4, 8, 10, 12-13; 1 Cor 3:16-23; Mt 5:38-48

February 19, 2017

Dear Family,

St. Paul writing to the community of believers at Corinth will frequently expound on his theology of the body. We are familiar with his analogy between the body and the community, each with its various parts and gifts. Here Paul tells the Christians that they are the temple of God and that they are holy. This might have been shocking language for the early Christians, but Paul believes that they belong to Christ, the source of all holiness.

Some questions for reflection:

What explanation of holiness in the readings is most striking to you?

How do you imagine yourself being holy?

Knowing that your body is a temple of the Lord, what might you change in your behavior?

It was good to have Bishop Muench with us on Thursday night as he offered the Sacrament of Confirmation to our young people. Let us continue to keep the newly confirmed in our prayers. We pray that the gifts of the spirit given them at Baptism and now confirmed in the Sacrament of Confirmation will help to build up the Church and our world into the Kingdom Jesus has proclaimed.

Many thanks for all who made this year's Epiphany concert another success. Thanks to our sponsors, Mr. Aguillard, our students who sang beautifully, the orchestra, Gary Perrault, Bill and Jan Grimes and all who attended the concert. We are truly grateful for the support from all over that helps to make this event something to look forward to each year. Thank you all! Bill, Jan and I are already working on next year's concert.

Peace,

Fr. Greg Daigle

Lenten Weekday Schedule

Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, March 1, a day of fast and abstinence.

Masses and distribution of Ashes are as follows:

7:00 am - St. John

8:30 am - St. Clement (School Mass)

12 Noon - St. John Liturgy of the Word (Not a Holy Day of Obligation) and Distribution of Ashes

6:00 pm - St. John

Lenten weekday schedule:

Monday - 7:00 am Liturgy of the Word

Tuesday - 6:00 pm Mass

6:30 pm Divine Mercy Novena

Wednesday & Thursday - 7:00 am Mass

Friday - 12:00 Noon Stations of the Cross

6:00 pm - Mass & Stations of the Cross

(No 7:00 am Mass on Friday during Lent)

FAST AND ABSTINENCE:

FASTING: On Ash Wednesday and Good Friday, those who are 18 but not yet 59 are allowed only one full meal. Two small meals are allowed as needed, but eating solid foods between meals is not permitted.

ABSTINENCE FROM MEAT: Those who are 14 years of age or older are to abstain from meat on Ash Wednesday and all the Fridays of Lent. The Church no longer attempts to prescribe our Lenten practices in detail.

The above regulations simply highlight Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, and other Fridays in Lent. Our more fundamental obligation is to make Lent a penitential season, choosing practices that are adapted to our own needs.
