Love Never Fails

Of all the lines in the second reading, Paul's famous description of love, I think the one that says it all is "Love never fails" (1 Corinthians 13:8). He shows that love is the greatest gift and the reason for all gifts.

First, he speaks of gifts without love. If someone was a great speaker, but without love, it would be self-serving. We've all heard politicians who make stirring speeches, not to move us to become better citizens, but to convince us that they are the best choice in an election. The same goes for other gifts, such as prophecy, knowledge, or faith. Without love, they become spectacles that draw attention to the one with the gift. Even self-sacrifice, without love, becomes an attention grabber. Ever hear someone say, "I gave up everything to be with you and what thanks do I get?"

Next, Paul tells us everything that love is not (1 Corinthians 13:4-6). If the first part was gifts without love, this section could be called feelings without love. The feelings Paul mentions, such as jealousy, pride, brooding, and anger, usually come from thinking that everything should go my way.

The last section is about the permanence of love. Human love at best is "till death do us part." But God's love is only partially experienced in this life. Even the gifts of the Spirit are meant to carry us forward and lead others to eternal life. When we are finally united completely with God, faith will be unnecessary and hope will be realized. What remains is perfect love.

January 30, 2022

Dear Family:

Today's readings speak to the vocation of the prophet. In contemporary speech, a "prophet" is often identified with a future seer, a "fortune teller." This is not the case in the biblical tradition. Here, the Greek word "prophets" means to "speak for." A true prophet is one who speaks for God. Prophets are mediators between God and humankind, a calling that encompasses great glory but also intense suffering.

Jeremiah, our model of the reluctant prophet who suffers for his vocation, is no less staunch in sharing God's Word. He embodies the Lord's strength and fortitude. The apostle Paul characterizes prophecy as a spiritual gift. He grounds every gift of the Holy Spirit in love. Sharpening and implementing such gifts must be, not in pursuit of selfish ambition, but for the good of all. In our time, we often meditate on Paul's hymn to love in the context of romantic engagement, but in his original context, Paul is concerned with the proper foundation of our inspiration and work in the community; faith, hope, and love. If love, steadfast and true, is the heart of our embodiment of the gifts of the Spirit, then they and we are properly oriented to the other and the good of all.

Jesus, as he embodies the Word of God professed by Isaiah, becomes a prophet in his own right as he challenges his audience's comfortable notions of being "chosen." He reminds them that God has traditionally looked beyond expectations and the status quo to work his will and implement his plan. Our challenge, likewise, is to be open to the very God in whom we profess to believe, that God who works in anyone, regardless of race, ethnicity, gender, custom, or convention.

Some questions for reflection:

Are you open to God's call, no matter the form it might take? What steps could invigorate the openness to which God calls you?

Reflect on the reading from Jeremiah. How has God called you to something more?

How have you considered Paul's hymn to love in 1 Corinthians 13 in the past? How does integration in today's readings impact your understanding?

Peace,

Fr. Greg

Before you were formed in your mothers' womb, God knew you. Before you were born, you were dedicated to the Lord. Do not be afraid to respond to God's call.

If God is calling you, call or email Father Joshua Johnson at 225.336.8778, jjohnson@diobr.org, or visit www.diobr.org/vocations.

Deanery Synod Discussion
Wednesday, February 16, 2022

The Synod on Synodality is a two-year process of listening and dialogue between all members of the Church which began in October. Pope Francis invites the entire Church to reflect on a theme that is decisive for its life and mission: "It is precisely this path of synodality which God expects of the Church of the third millennium."

The Diocese of Baton Rouge will be hosting a discussion on Catholic life in the parish and surrounding parishes in our deanery on Wednesday, February 16, 2022 at 6:30pm in the parish hall. This meeting is open to all parishioners of our deanery. Light snacks will be served.

If you are unable to attend but would like to share your thoughts, go to diobr.org/synod.

EUCHARISTIC ADORATION

The following reflection is an invitation to prayer before Our Lord and Savior in the Adoration Chapel. Beloved Jesus, may I ever be conscious of the fact that I am in Your adorable presence—I am in the presence of You who by Your life, death and resurrection, paid the price of my sins and the sins of the world. May I always be open to receive this gift by a life of continual faith and love. — “Reflections and Prayers for Visits with Our Eucharistic Lord” page 19

The Adoration Chapel is open from 4am-10pm. To volunteer for a scheduled hour or as a substitute, contact JoAnn Daigle at 225.687.4621 or 225.776.4865.
