All My Love

According to Jesus, the first commandment is to love God with heart, mind, soul, and strength. This is usually taken to mean loving God with your whole being. But it wouldn't hurt to look at the modern meanings of those words to see how we can apply them.

The heart is the symbol of our desires and love. So to love God with all your heart can mean that you recognize God as the one source of your life. That means you love God above everything and everyone. How many of us can say we would rather spend time with God, than with our friends, family, or loved ones?

To love God with all your mind can mean that you never stop thinking of God. You can ask God to help you any time you make a decision, whether it is what to watch next on TV, or what to do for a living. The better you know God, the more likely you are to hear God in your decisions. You can get to know God through the scriptures and other spiritual reading.

If the soul is the center of your spiritual life, then loving God with all your soul can remind you to listen to God when you pray. You might remember how annoying it can be to converse with someone who does all the talking. At first it is easy, but eventually you find yourself getting nervous because you have things you would like to say also. Think of that when you pray; give God a chance to put in a few words, too.

Finally, to love God with all your strength can mean you put as much energy into loving God as you do with exercising, doing your day-job, cleaning the house, or mowing the lawn. Just remember that no matter how hard you work for the Lord, God loves you even more than you love Him.

Pastor's Letter

November 3, 2024

Dear Family:

The first reading from the book of Deuteronomy expresses the essence of Israel's covenant relationship with God. Moses calls God's people to embody the decrees that will bear fruit for generations to come. Foundational to this relationship of faith and vocation is love. The relationship of faith is vertical: between the individual and God. The relationship of vocation is between people: the individual and all humankind. Both types of relationship begin and end with loving God with the entirety of one's mind, body, and soul. Our love for God, ourselves, and others makes possible community - living in unity with God and one another. The genius of God acting in covenant relationship with creation and God's chosen people is this love that sustains all modes of being - biological, psychological, political, scientific, and religious.

Today's passage from Mark's Gospel pointedly builds upon this understanding of covenant relationship. Leaders question Jesus' understanding of these commandments. Jesus responds first with who God is, then with our response to God and, finally, in our relationship to one another. Jesus grounds his teaching in the Scripture from Deuteronomy. The coming of Jesus as the Christ, God's anointed one, to redeem and restore all humankind to himself is well grounded in who God always is: one who desires to dwell in covenant relationship with creation.

The Scriptures challenge us to ground the new in the old. We must also recognize the old for its historically contextualized truth and move into the new. Christians, by definition, live in the new covenant, written by the one ultimate redeeming sacrifice of Jesus Christ, who makes covenant relationship possible for all who believe. This is eternal. We are still discovering all the different modes of being. Let us be open to God's teaching.

Some questions for reflection:

How do you embody God's first commandment?

Are you open to the question - and - answer dialogue in which Jesus participates in Mark's Gospel passage?

What might it mean to be open to God's continual teaching through modes of being?

God provided great weather for our Acadian Festival weekend. I hope you all were able to enjoy the fellowship the Knights of Columbus offered us last weekend. My personal thanks to our Knights of Columbus and all who have helped us get ready for this year's Festival. Blessings to all our great volunteers.

Many thanks to all those who gathered earlier this month for the praying of the Rosary for our nation. Thanks as well for all of you who contributed Blood at the Blood Drive October 20th.

We start this month blessing our two cemeteries. The Book of Remembrance will be located near the devotional candle area in the church for the month of November. This month we are called to pray for all those who have gone before us to the place God has prepared for them.

Regarding our 100 Year Campaign, we are now close to beginning the bid process for the 1st phase repair of our church roof. Thank you for your great generosity that continues to bless our efforts to bring restoration to our church. As you continue to give we get closer to beginning our 2nd phase to replace our failing HVAC System. Gratitude and Blessings to you all.

Peace,

Fr. Greg

All Saints' Day

Blessing of the Graves

St. John Cemetery — 12 Noon

Grace Memorial — 1:30pm

Honoring our Beloved Dead

2025 Mass Intentions

The Mass Intention Book is open for the scheduling of Masses for next year (2025). Printed forms may be found on the bookshelves at the back of church and in the church office. Digital forms may be submitted online via our website, www.stjohnchurchplaq.org under RESOURCES.

If you wish to schedule a Mass, please fill out a Mass Intention form. Include your name, address and telephone number in the event we have questions about your intentions and need to contact you. We will try to schedule Masses in the order in which the forms are received to the best of our ability. You may return the form and your check to the St. John Church Office, mail it to 57805 Main Street or drop it in the collection basket at any weekend Mass.

Book of Remembrance

During the month of November, parishioners are encouraged to list the names of their deceased loved ones in the Book of Remembrance. This book is located in church near the devotional candles and will remain during the month of November. You may write the names of loved ones in the book at your convenience.

Candles — In Memoriam

At our All Saints Day Masses on November 1, our parish remembers in a special way all those who died within the past year and were buried from St. John Church. A candle is burned at the Altar for each deceased parishioner.

If you were unable to attend an All Saints Day Mass, you may pick up an unlit candle to burn at home in memory of your deceased loved one who died in the past year.
